Self-Reflection: What did I learn today?

(Please summarise three aspects of the breed that you feel you increased your knowledge level on)

|   |   |
|---|---|
| 1 | I increased my knowledge on the correct eye shape for Burmese |
| 2 | How the Burmese Lilac coat colour can vary                    |
| 3 | I still need to work on describing Burmese eye colour         |

Confidence Level: (Please summarise three aspects that you feel you have increased your confidence level on. NB. These may be on aspects highlighted on previous Tutorials)

|   |  |
|---|--|
| 1 | I feel I have a better idea now on the correct eye shape with the upper line in particular |
| 2 | I feel a little more confident with my placings of cats of similar type                    |
| 3 | I still feel rather unsure how the BAC wants me to describe eye colour                     |

| I need to learn more about the desired tone of Lilac in Burmese   | I am going to focus on discussing this at my next Tutorial   | When the BAC tell me and my mentor agrees                         | Next show                |
| I need to learn more about good/bad Burmese eye colour and how to describe what I am seeing                         | Talk to my Mentor and other Full Burmese judges and ask them how they would describe various Burmese at forthcoming shows? | When I can describe an eye colour correctly to a Judge/BAC member | Within a couple of shows |
| How to place mediocre type cats with more confidence-I still have difficulties when there is a whole class of them! | Talk to Full Burmese judges-especially if they are on the BAC  | When I get a positive letter from the BAC                         | Next meeting             |
